Maple Syrup Volunteer Meeting at Flanders

WOODBURY - Flanders Nature Center & Land Trust is once again getting ready for the maple syrup season. All interested volunteers are invited to come out of hibernation and join Flanders staff for this fine New England tradition at a preliminary information meeting on Thursday evening at 7 PM at the Welcome Center/Studio. Refreshments will be served.

As part of this get-together, there will be a discussion of organizing the 2009 maple sugaring season and detailing the many interesting volunteer opportunities from tapping trees to sap collecting and the processing at the Sugar House as well as the educational interpretation of the program.

Sugaring volunteers range from Middle School to adult. No experience is necessary, all potential volunteers are welcome and it's free. Sign up for your area of interest.

Call Flanders at 203-263-3711 ext. 10 or 12 to confirm attendance at the meeting on Thursday, February 5 at 7 PM. The Welcome Center/Studio is located at the intersection of Flanders and Church Hill Roads, three miles north of Route 6 in Woodbury.
