2008 COMMUNITY ORGANIC GARDEN at FLANDERS NATURE CENTER & LAND TRUST

WOODBURY – ARE YOU TURNING GREEN?

Spring has finally arrived! It's time to dust off your green thumb and get ready to garden!

Flanders Nature Center & Land Trust offers organic garden plots in our community garden to Flanders members. 10 x 20 foot plots are available for the season for $30 or 2/ $50 (seniors $20).

Gardening is a wonderful outdoor tradition. We invite you to join our garden community, sharing and learning garden skills with friends and family. While you are tending your garden plot in the evening enjoy visits from our resident beaver, providing you an opportunity to connect to the earth, unwind, get unplugged and explore the 200 acre wildlife habitat. Experience the great outdoors and growing local foods are one of the most valuable gifts that we can pass on to future generations.

READY, SET... GROW! GARDEN GATHERING

All Flanders community gardeners are invited to join us Friday, April 25th at 6 PM for a pot luck dinner and garden talk with UCONN Master Gardener Jennifer Kern at the Studio Welcome Center on the corner of Flanders and Church Hill Roads.

DO... come and meet your fellow gardeners. Learn some garden secrets for success!

DON'T... forget to bring the kids... we have some special kids activities planned during the garden lecture.

This program is free to all Flanders community gardeners. Please RSVP with the office at 203-263-3711 ext. 10 to reserve your garden space and let us know your coming and what dish you are bringing.

Flanders Nature Center & Land Trust is a nonprofit organization devoted to environmental and agriculture-related education, and to the preservation and stewardship of open space.
