

Education · Preservation
Stewardship

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

August 1, 2008

Press Contact: Amber Grabowski

203-263-3711 ext. 10 or www.flandersnaturecenter.org

WOODBURY- Though the summer is beginning to wind down, there are still opportunities for kids age 3 – 10 to enjoy some last-minute summer fun! Flanders Nature Center & Land Trust still has openings for the last 3 weeks of summer camp and offers wonderful opportunities for children to connect with the natural world through games, crafts, and exploration.

The themes of art, nature, and farming are encompassed by classes such as Young Biologists, Woolly Wonders, Nature Detectives, Did Somebody Say Komodo Dragon?, and All Around Animal Adventure. The classes run weekly from August 4 through August 22.

Program fees for each class are as follows: 3 – 4 year olds Members $85/Nonmembers $110 and 5-10 year old Members $100/Nonmembers $125. A 10% discount is given when a child takes multiple classes. Registration and pre-payment are required. Call 203-263-3711 ext.10 for more information or stop in the Studio to register.

Counselors Michael Palletta and Amy Pantaleo pose with Louey the cow and campers who spent the week learning about cows. They are (back row to front, left to right): CJ Masterson, Anne Trager, Travis Hydar, Timmy Monahan, Layne Carter, Austin Smith, Michael Trager, Kristy Masterson, Rebecca Hydar, Stephanie DiSarro, and Fina McCreary.

####